

EMPLOYMENT

State Employment Opportunities

For an official list of vacancies or to apply, visit calpolyjobs.org. For help, call Human Resources at ext. 6-2236.

#103603 –

Planner/Estimator/Scheduler, Student Affairs, University Housing. $3,907-$6,034 per month. Open until filled. Review begins April 8.

#103606 – Degree Progress Evaluator (Student Services Professional II)

Academic Affairs, Office of the Registrar, Evaluations. Up to three positions available. $3,673-$5,221 per month. Anticipated hiring range: $3,673-$3,922 per month. Open until filled. Review begins April 9.

Cal Poly Announces New Location, Expansion Plans for SLO HotHouse Programs

Cal Poly has leased a 15,000-square-foot space in downtown San Luis Obispo to relocate and expand its SLO HotHouse — a collaborative effort with the city and local business community aimed at supporting promising innovators and entrepreneurs and building a unique and passionate startup culture in San Luis Obispo. The university recently signed a 10-year lease on the space along the 800 block of Higuera Street, directly above the Ross Dress for Less store. Currently housed in roughly 6,000 square feet on Morro Street, the program will be shifted to the new location gradually, beginning in June and through early fall. For more information, go to calpolynews.calpoly.edu.

Philosophy Professor to Testify on the Ethics of Autonomous Weapons at United Nations

Patrick Lin, associate philosophy professor and director of the Ethics + Emerging Sciences Group, is scheduled to speak at the United Nations' Convention on Certain Conventional Weapons (CCW) meeting of experts April 16 in Geneva, Switzerland. The five-day meeting is focused on the legality and ethics of lethal autonomous weapons systems, otherwise known as "killer robots." Lin has also advised the U.S. Department of Defense, CIA, National Academy of Sciences, Google and others on robot ethics, especially related to national security issues. The testimony demonstrates a growing interest in technology ethics as advances in science and engineering continue to outpace law and policy.

Campus Completes 12 Electric Vehicle Charging Stations

Twelve electric vehicle (EV) charging stations have been completed on campus, funded by a grant from the California Energy Commission (CEC). The charging stations are located at two sites: the first (lowest) level of the Grand Avenue parking structure next to the Performing Arts Center, and the H-2a parking lot near Kennedy Library. The fee to utilize the charging stations is based on the campus kilowatt-per-hour rate for the first four hours. To encourage turnover and promote availability of the spaces throughout the day, the charging fee increases to a per-minute rate after that. Vehicles using the EV spaces will be required to display a valid Cal Poly parking permit and have an active charging session engaged. To join the program, visit the Chargepoint website. For more information, call Dominique Bonino, Commuter Services coordinator at ext. 6-6680.

Faculty and Staff Discount Available for Kids' STEM Summer Camp

Two sessions of Kids Learn STEM summer camp will be offered July 13-17 and 20-24, available to fifth- through eighth-grade students. The sessions will feature hands-on learning about forensics in a Learn by Doing Lab from 8:15 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Discounts are available to faculty and staff, though discounted spaces are limited and will be reserved on a first-come, first-served basis. To register, call ext. 6-2053.

Tomato Mania is Coming to Campus April 11-12

More than 65 varieties of tomato plants will be available at the annual Tomato Mania plant sale Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12, at the Poly Plant Shop. Moonglow, Beefsteak, Shady Lady, Alaskan Fancy, and a selection of cherry tomato plants are just some of the varieties that will be available. Tomato Mania is an annual student-run enterprise project. The 2015 program is directed by a team of six students who have grown more than 5,000 tomato plants from seed to provide home gardeners with quality plants that will produce fresh tomatoes throughout the summer. The Poly Plant Shop is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., located on Via Carta Road in Building 48.

Special Offered April 9 on Slices of Winning Pizza

Ciao! will feature a special purchase offer from 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Thursday, April 9, to introduce the pizza that took first place in the January pizza contest. The winning recipe is the Philly cheese steak pizza submitted by Sarah Nimroozi. Customers who buy a slice will get $1 off a slice of any other pizza. Nimroozi will sign pizza boxes during the special offer. Her recipe took first place out of 98 submissions. The pizza will be featured on the Ciao! menu through spring quarter. Nimroozi is a first-year industrial engineering major from Orange County.

The Pride Center to Host Screening of the Movie 'Pride' on April 9

The Pride Center will screen the movie "Pride" from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday, April 9, in the UU Plaza. The film is about gay activists in the United Kingdom who help workers from the National Union of Mineworkers during a lengthy strike in 1984. The screening is part of the monthly movie series, OUTtakes, which showcases films created by or about the lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, queer, questioning, intersex and asexual (LGBTQIA) community. The screening will include a free barbeque. For more information, email pride@calpoly.edu.