Public Can Tour Cal Poly Pier on Oct. 29

Bring the family and tour the Cal Poly Pier in Avila Beach from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Oct. 29. The fall open house will feature hands-on touch tanks full of live marine creatures, microscopes for viewing ultra-small sea creatures, and lots of interactive displays on the pier that is more than a half-mile long. Kids can put their faces in the water and breathe through a scuba respirator, learn why whales migrate and discover what a red tide is. Faculty and students will be available to answer questions. Safety rules require closed-toe shoes to walk on the pier. It is on Avila Beach Drive, just west of the San Luis Creek Bridge. Parking is limited near the pier, so visitors should use the public parking lots in Avila Beach and walk to the pier.

Palm Theatre Founder Jim Dee to Present Film, Talk on Oct. 26

Palm Theatre founder and Cal Poly alumnus Jim Dee will speak from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 26, in UU 204. In 1988, Dee opened The Palm to provide alternative cinema to San Luis Obispo. Dee will discuss how film can personalize stories of social struggle and injustice and provoke change. He will also screen the 1948 Italian neorealist film "Bicycle Thieves," directed by Vittorio De Sica. Questions? Contact Kayley Weldon at sts@calpoly.edu.

University Store Turns Back Sweatshirt Prices to $19.01 on Oct. 27

The University Store is celebrating the university's founding with its 1901 Event on Thursday, Oct. 27. The sale, which starts at 9 a.m., features Cal Poly commemorative sweatshirts for $19.01 (plus sales tax). "It is important that we remember our founding and keep the tradition of Learn by Doing alive at Cal Poly," said ASI President Jana Colombini. For more details, visit the <http://bit.ly/2esENNZ>.

Discounted K-8 Youth Football League Spots Are Available

Athletics will host its second year of a youth flag football league this winter. "Next Level Flag Football @ Cal Poly" is a unique youth sports model; members of the Cal Poly football staff will run the league, and student-athletes will act as team coaches. This community-building event is positive on many levels and will be available for children from kindergarten through eighth grade. Besides benefiting local youth and student-athletes, who develop responsibility and leadership skills, the program will also connect local families to Cal Poly's football program. A $100 discount per child of faculty/staff members is being offered. Contact coach Jim Craft at jicraft@calpoly.edu for details. For more information, visit www.nextlevelflag.com.

Speak Up! Responding to Everyday Bigotry Workshop Is Oct. 26

The Office of University Diversity and Inclusivity is hosting an hourlong workshop on combating bigotry at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Mathematics and Science Building (No. 38), Room 114. Participants will understand the impact of everyday bigotry, explore barriers to responding to everyday bigotry, and develop and practice ways to respond. For more details, contact Kari Mansager, OUDI program director, at ext. 6-7367 or email her at kmansage@calpoly.edu.

Oct. 27 Talk on How Spying, Self-Promotion Lead to Innovation

UC Santa Barbara Professor Paul Leonardi will give a talk, "How Spying, Eavesdropping and Self-Promotion Can Lead to Innovation in the Digital Age," from 4:30 to 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27, in Chumash Auditorium, (No. 65), Room 207. Leonardi will build a theory of communication visibility that helps explain how the increasing social transparency of the workplace is changing organizations and the lives of those who work in them.
