Police Department Welcomes New K-9 Partners

The University Police Department has added two new members, German shepherd dogs Xello and Brisan, to its force. The dogs and their handlers, Paul Davis (Brisan) and Stephanie Pipan (Xello), have undergone training to perform key functions on campus, including locating missing persons and replacing officers in some high-risk activities. The dogs will also participate in the animal science and veterinary programs. The dogs were hand-selected for temperament in Germany by veteran K-9 trainers. The acquisition was supported by various fundraising efforts. A dinner Saturday, Oct. 22, will raise funds for the dog team's ongoing operations.
